The professional forester fills a generalist position responsible for most phases of forest land management at the stand and project level, ensuring that all proposed activities meet applicable Tribal, Federal and State regulations and laws. Projects will generally be simple to highly complex in nature. Duties are as follows:

- Conducts area reconnaissance for sale planning and develops data for stratification into stands, vegetative conditions, logging systems, management prescriptions, habitat types, etc. or other specialty strata required by other relevant natural interests.
- Provides forestry input to inter-disciplinary teams for sale preparation, including existing conditions reports and impact analysis.
- Utilizes reconnaissance data and formal stand exam data, management plan and interdisciplinary team input to complete the prescriptive process, integrating all identified social, political, legal, economic, varied funding sources and biologic issues.
- Reviews existing road systems for condition, recommends improvement and upgrade needs.
- Field checks designs, and designates centerline for additional road system to access cutting units.
- Designs specialty structures such as switchbacks, v-draw and v-ridge crossings.
- Designs sale and cutting boundaries to meet harvesting, biological, visual, burning, economic and other criteria.
- Designates and executes statistically sound timber cruises, processes and summarizes cruise data and develops sale stumpage appraisals.
- Coordinates input to sale development from Forest Development, fire and other disciplines.

- Prepares Forest Officer's Reports, NEPA document input, timber sale contracts, prospectus, advertisements and maps.
- Designates timber for cutting through the application of silvicultural prescriptions and marking guides.
- Other duties as assigned include, but are not limited to:
  - * Assists in establishment and re-measurement of permanent growth plots.
  - * Assists in fire suppression and prescribed burning as directed by the Fire Management Officer.
  - * Shares in the training of other forestry personnel.
  - * Supervises employees as required.
